Let's Go Now! - Ten Adventures of a Lifetime

by Virginia Marshall

See a Great Bear

CENTRAL COAST, BRITISH COLUMBIA

Which came first, the kayak or the mothership? Dunno, but any paddler who's hunkered in a campsite soaked by the B.C. rainforest's eponymous drizzle has surely dreamed they'd booked the mothership first. Captain Ross Cambpell and family assure you're well cared for aboard former hospital ship the Columbia III. The days on Mothership Adventures' 9-day Great Bear Rainforest cruise (in September for prime grizzly viewing) are packed with paddling to earn you the organic delights of a shipboard chef and the comforts of a warm, dry berth ($3,975 Cdn, www.mothershipadventures.com).

